

Congratulations, you are an Emily!

With your vivid imagination, affinity with the natural world and powerful individuality, you can seem like something of a visionary or mystic to those around you. This can be unsettling for some, but with your self-worth and good humour you are more than a match for your critics!

You don't bond with many, but when you love you are fiercely loyal and will never forget or betray someone you're close to. This can make it hard for you to move on and you need to resist the temptation to live in your own head instead of forming real relationships – fantasy can be an alluring escape but even you need others sometimes so remember to reach out occasionally!
